► Total Number of responses: 156

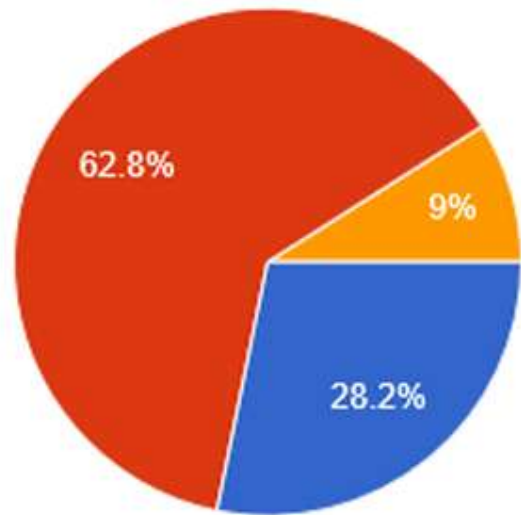

Q1. Under current structures players are guaranteed a minimum of 17 games between league and championship. Do you think this is:

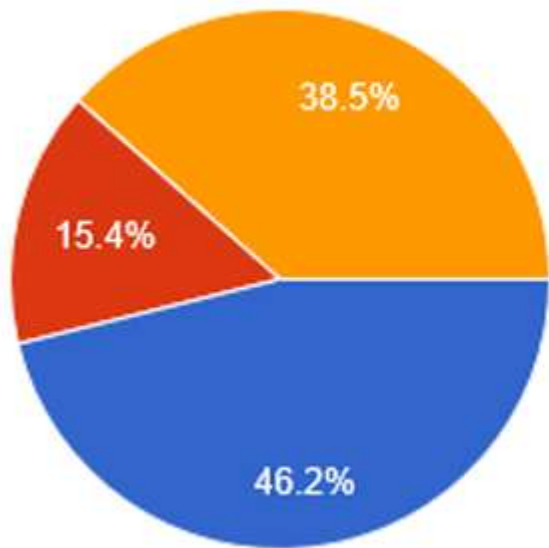

- Too Few
- Too Many
- About Right

Q 2. CCC Liatroma endeavoured to conclude the league earlier in the season and many players and clubs felt under pressure due to midweek games around Connacht Championship time. In order to ease this burden, do you think

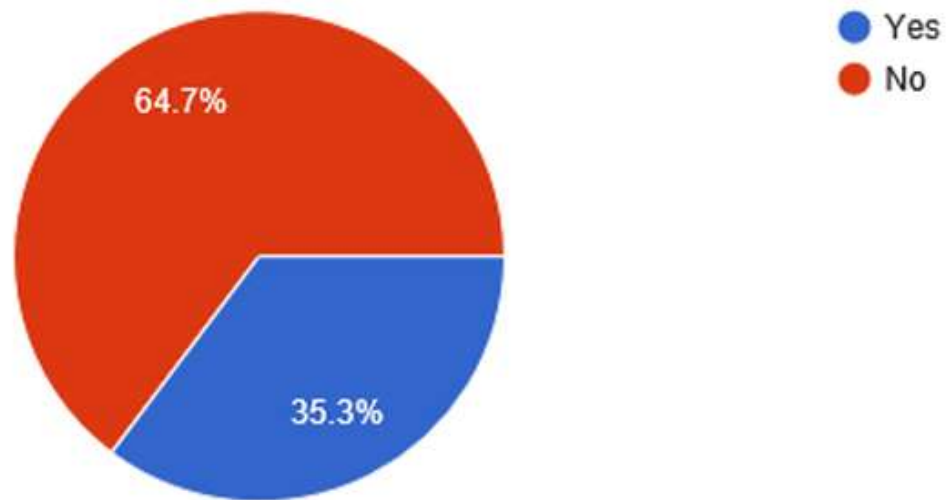

- The number of league games should be reduced
- Clubs should play a number of games without county players
- The league should be more spread out and concluded after the club championship

Q3. CCC played 3 rounds of the league mid week this season in order to conclude the league in advance of championship. Do you think that this was

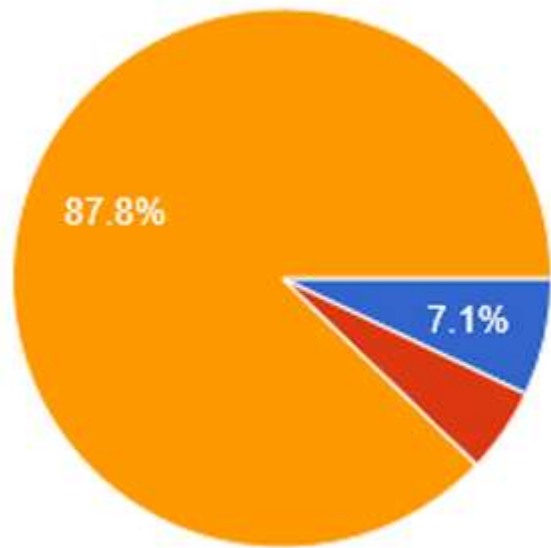

- Too many
- Too few
- Just about right

Q4. If the numbers of teams in League Divisions were to be reduced in order to allow all county players to play without county duties pressure; and an additional competition were to be introduced to be played without county players to compensate players for loss of game time would you be in favour of a system like this?

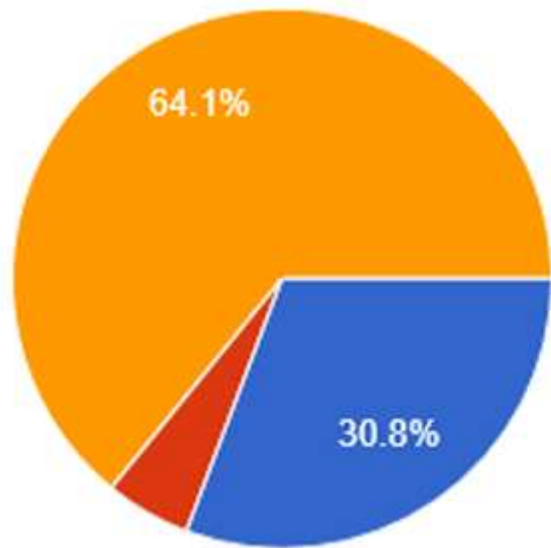

Q5. If we were to spread out the playing season over the calendar year and have a number of league games post championship, what number of rounds would you consider acceptable in this scenario

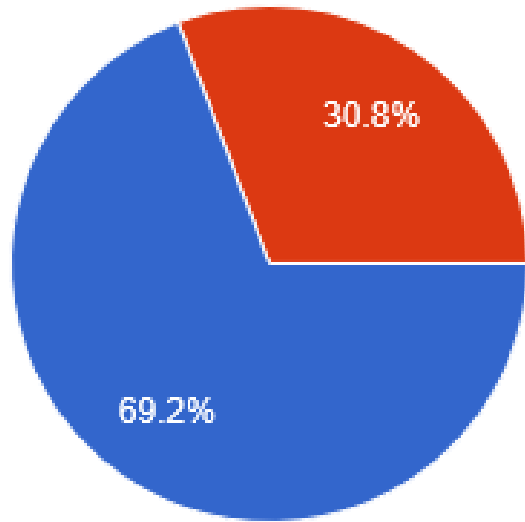

- 2
- 3
- None of these, I would prefer league to be concluded pre championship

Q6. Currently the Shield Competition gives additional games in advance of the League starting. Do you think this competition:

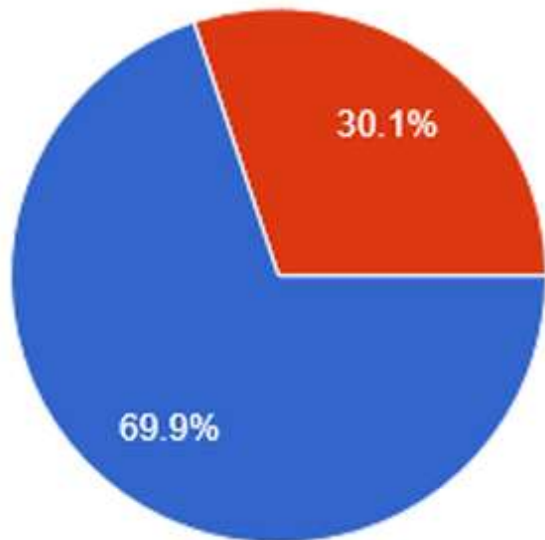

- serves a useful purpose in its current format
- Should be expanded to give more games
- Should be discontinued

Q7. The current Championship System has almost concluded its first season. Did you

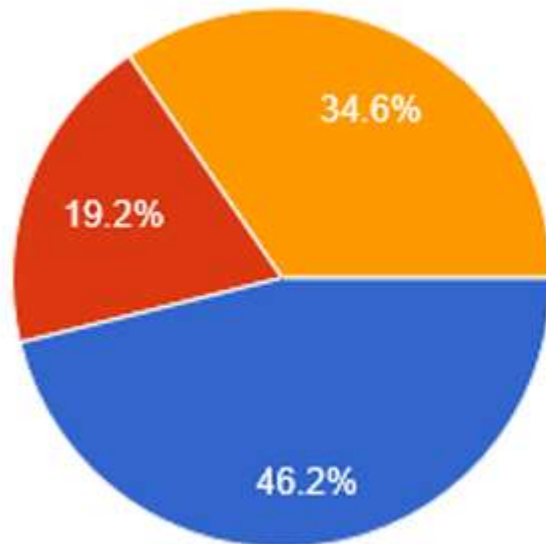

- Enjoy the format of two groups with the extra games
- Not in agreement with it, preferred the former system

Q8. Do you think the current championship format was:

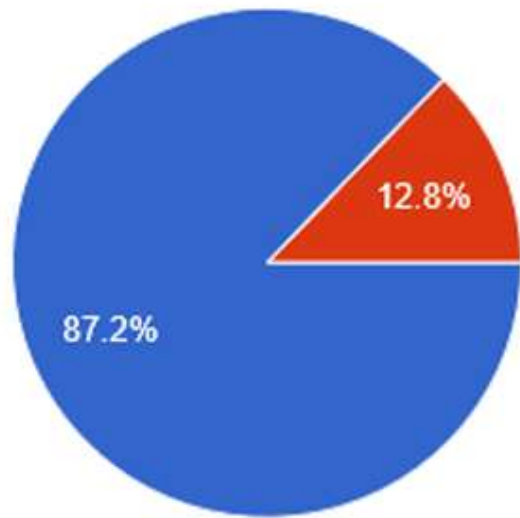

- Well organised with 5 group games in 6 weeks
- Too many games in a short timeframe

Q9. Do you think the new group format

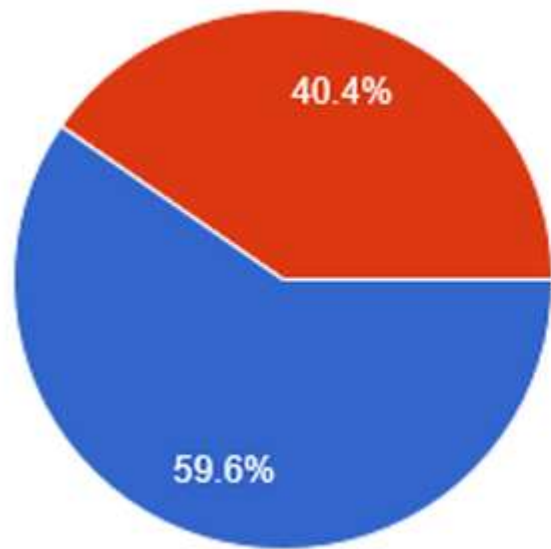

- Kept interest alive until concluding round.
- Was predictable and too drawn out.
- Too advantageous to teams with bigger pool of players

Q10. The club season for first team players started in early April this year and has concluded for the majority of players now in less than seven months. Do you think that this is:

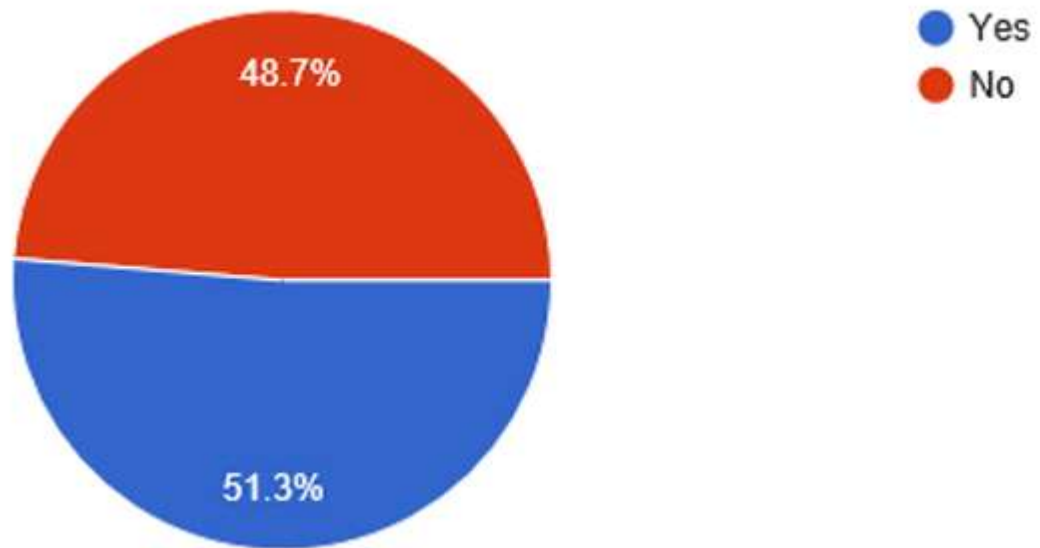

- About right
- Too condensed. I would prefer to be playing longer.

Q11. The average training sessions to games is approximately 4:1. Do you consider this ratio to be:

- About right.
- Too many training sessions, more games required.

Q12. Overall, are you happy with the structures currently in place across league and championship

Thank you....
